Songs - Summer of 1918.
I.

June. "They go wild, simply wild over me."
We go wild, simply wild over Freud
With our psychanalysis we're overjoyed.
Our libido knows no fight
We dissect our dreams each night
We're fresh on repression
Transference our delight
No dismay we display over sex
And it's we who are free from complex
But we know from what you dream
That you are not what you seem
For we're hep, full of pep over Freud.

II.

June "Home sweet home"
Thro' clinics & hospitals
Though we may roam,
Be it ever so normal
There's no place like home.
